Vegan Author, Speaker, Book Expert & Publisher

Mitali Deypurkaystha, aka 'The Authority Creator,' is an author, speaker, business book expert and publisher, and owner of Let's Tell Your Story Publishing. She is the author of the international No. 1 bestseller, The Freedom Master Plan, featured on ABC, NBC, CBS, and Fox, which reveals how she helped her clients generate over $5 million in additional business revenue as authors.

In 2009, she adopted a rescue cat who dramatically changed her life. For the first time, she witnessed intelligence and sentience beyond what she believed animals were capable of showing. She realized that she was duped into believing animals are dumb as this suits certain industries. This led to her adopting a plant-based lifestyle until she became vegan. She's especially vocal on her views against factory farming and animal testing.

Inspired by the growing number of vegan business leaders and entrepreneurs, she now focuses on helping these inspirational people to raise their authority by becoming professionally published vegan authors. She envisages a day soon when eating and using animal products will be seen as an archaic thing people did in the past, but this can only happen if the world's vegan voices become louder.

Mitali resides in the city of Gateshead, in North East England, with her family, including her 'can't die, won't die' cat, Isha, who's fought cancer twice and won!
